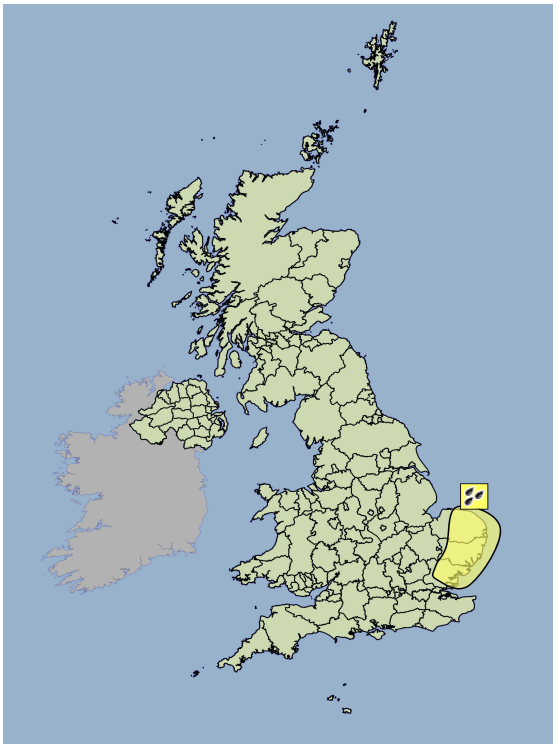
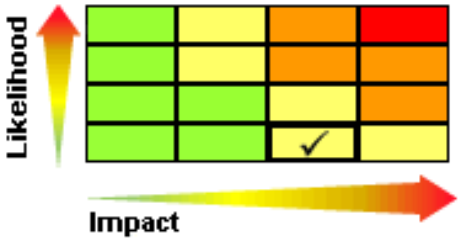
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
This warning is an extension of the warning issued earlier today. Further showers or isolated thunderstorms may continue to affect parts of East Anglia during the rest of this evening. Where showers occur there is a risk of locally heavy downpours with 15-20 mm of rain perhaps falling within an hour.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 20:00 on Fri, 14th Aug 2015 until 23:30 on Fri, 14th Aug 2015

Although many places will be dry, there is a risk of isolated thunderstorms breaking out across parts of East Anglia during the rest of this evening.

Be aware of the risk of very localised surface water flooding.
